

Break Through Classical Music

THE DISCOVERY O!RCHESTRA

The Concertmaster Chair

“Winograd appeared mild-mannered but played with a wild abandon. The summer movement was a good showcase for his intensity and also allowed him space to reveal the warm, lyrical side of his musicianship.

Winograd is a renowned chamber musician and he brought a chamber sensibility to the solo violin part.”

- Hartford Courant

Introduction

Peter Winograd, internationally renowned for his performances as a solo artist and as first violinist with the American String Quartet, has also been the concertmaster of The Discovery Orchestra since the founding of the organization in 1987. In fact, George Marriner Maull and Peter's musical partnership goes back over 30 years to Peter's days as a Juilliard student.

Peter has also been featured as a soloist in two of the Orchestra's Emmy-nominated, nationally-televised educational programs: Bach to the Future and Discover Vivaldi's Four Seasons. Additionally, Discovery Orchestra audience members have had the opportunity to experience Peter's artistry and engaging personality at our Intimate Afternoon and Evening recitals with the other members of the American String Quartet.
